Course Description	This course focuses on three core ideas of Earth and Space Science: Earth's place in the universe, Earth's systems, and Earth and human activity. In this course, students will be encouraged to make inquiries regarding Earth and Space Science and relate them to the world around them. Some areas of study include geologic processes, human impact on the environment, the composition of Earth's core, objects of the solar system, and changes in human population based on Earth's systems. Students will utilize laboratory experiments and inquiry activities to deepen their understanding of the concepts.
Course Objectives	By the end of this course, students should have an understanding of Earth's systems and processes, Earth's place in the universe, as well as a thorough understanding of correct lab procedure and safety, experimentation, and how science relates to the world around us.
