The chair is shorter than the ladder. We use the words longer and shorter to compare length. For example, the table is longer than the placemat. The placemat is shorter than the table.

Important Information

Wow! It is hard to believe the Fourth Nine Weeks starts this week. The kids have come so far this year! I know it may seem like we are in the home stretch, but we still have several standards to master this school year. We will push hard until the final day of Kindergarten. The Third Nine Weeks Report Card will come home on March 25th. Reminder, please ensure your child gets a good night's rest each night. We work hard each day and this will help your child successfully make it through the day.
